Re: Statement of Religious Objection to Immunization

To whom it may concern:

The administration of vaccine or other immunizing agents (even for Rubella or the flu shot) is contrary to our personal religious beliefs as traditional Catholics, held either individually or jointly with others, and I therefore affirm that any faithful traditional Catholic can and should be exempted from any Covid or flu shot requirement for schools, health-care, or in any workplace.

We believe in God, and that God has created all of us in His image. We are bestowed with His gift, the immune system. We believe that it is a violation of our sacred religious beliefs to violate what God has given us by injecting our bodies with vaccines known to cause immune system damage and other, even deadly side effects.

Further, many vaccines are produced using biologic injections of human and animal DNA fragments and therefore getting a shot could potentially involve one in mortal sin.

Our religious beliefs are based upon the understanding of what God requires of man pursuant to the Holy Scripture as noted in (among other passages)

2 Corinthians 6:16-7:1; 1 Corinthians 12:24-27 and Mark 2:17, where Jesus explicitly addresses this issue with the following statement: Jesus hearing this, saith to them: They that are well have no need of a physician, but they that are sick.

I am fully aware and understand the alleged risks of non-immunization.

By my signature below, I confirm that the foregoing statements are correct to the best of my information and belief.

Very truly yours,

Rev. Fr. Kevin Robinson
